1. The applicant is hereby notified that this International Preliminary Examining Authority transmits herewith the international preliminary report on patentability and its annexes, if any, established on the international application.
2. A copy of the report and its annexes, if any, is being transmitted to the International Bureau for communication to all the elected Offices.
3. Where required by any of the elected Offices, the International Bureau will prepare an English translation of the report (but not of any annexes) and will transmit such translation to those Offices.
4. REMINDER

The applicant must enter the national phase before each elected Office by performing certain acts (filing translations and paying national fees) within 30 months from the priority date (or later in some Offices) (Article 39(1)) (see also the reminder sent by the International Bureau with Form PCT/IB/301).

Where a translation of the international application must be furnished to an elected Office, that translation must contain a translation of any annexes to the international preliminary report on patentability. It is the applicant's responsibility to prepare and furnish such translation directly to each elected Office concerned.

For further details on the applicable time limits and requirements of the elected Offices, see Volume II of the PCT Applicant's Guide.

The applicant's attention is drawn to Article 33(5), which provides that the criteria of novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability described in Article 33(2) to (4) merely serve the purposes of international preliminary examination and that "any Contracting State may apply additional or different criteria for the purposes of deciding whether, in that State, the claimed inventions is patentable or not" (see also Article 27(5)). Such additional criteria may relate, for example, to exemptions from patentability, requirements for enabling disclosure, clarity and support for the claims.

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

- D1: WO 02/12522 A (THE UNIVERSITY OF SURREY; ROBERTS, LISA, ORIEL; BELSHAM, GRAHAM, JOHN) 14 February 2002 (2002-02-14)
- D2: TOTH R L ET AL: "A novel strategy for the expression of foreign genes from plant virus vectors" FEBS LETTERS, ELSEVIER SCIENCE PUBLISHERS, AMSTERDAM, NL, vol. 489, no. 2-3, 2 February 2001 (2001-02-02), pages 215-219, XP004248888 ISSN: 0014-5793
- D3: WO 02/29068 A (ICON GENETICS AG; GLEBA, YURI; DOROKOV, YURII; IVANOV, PETER; ATABEKOV) 11 April 2002 (2002-04-11)

D1, which is considered to represent the most relevant state of the art, discloses a method of conferring disease resistance to a transgenic plant using a construct comprising an internal ribosome entry site (IRES).

D2 discloses a method for expressing heterologous genes in transgenic plant using an IRES or its complementary sequence.

D3 discloses methods for expressing heterologous genes -in either sense or antisense orientation- in transgenic plants using an IRES.

The subject-matter of claim 1 is therefore new (Article 33(2) PCT). The same holds true for claims 2-235.

The problem to be solved by the present invention may be regarded as the provision of an alternative method for conferring disease resistance to a transgenic plant.

The solution is the provision of a method in using a sequence complementary to a coding sequence for a heterologous resistance gene in combination with a sequence complementary to an IRES.

(SEPARATE SHEET)

International application No.

PCT/US2004/021451

The solution to this problem proposed in claim 1 of the present application is considered as involving an inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT) for the following reasons:

None of the cited prior art documents discloses nor suggests the use of a sequence complementary to a coding sequence for a heterologous resistance gene in combination with a sequence complementary to an IRES.

The same applies mutatis mutandis to the independent claims 30, 73, 119, 135, 137, 141, 142, 152, 154, 158, 159, 169, 175, 176, 196, 216. The dependent claims as such also meet the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.
